R. D. Ward & Co. vs. Western Aqueduct Association .- This action was brought to recover the balance claimed to be due for the iron pipe which the Aqueduct Association of Brattleboro laid from their spring near Centreville, From the evidence it appeared that in July 1873 the directors of the aqueduct association made a contract with the agent of the pitts, to furnish them with between five and six thousand feet of iron pipe in lengths of nine feet each, and the same was to be delivered at Brattleboro on or about the 1st of September of the ame year. After this contract was made the plffs, had some correspondence with the officers of the squeduct association in which they recommended and urged them to take the iron pipe in lengths of twelve feet each; this the officers of the squeduct desired the nine feet pipe because the line of the water pipes was crooked and the short pipe could be used in the curves without necessitating the cutting of the pipe. On or about the 5th of November the plffs. forwarded the iron pipe, in lengths of twelve feet each. The delts, claimed that the pipe was not accepted until the plaintiffs agreed to make the association whole for any loss or damage which it might sustain on account of the twelve foot pipe. The defts, claimed that they had paid $1800 towards the pipe, and that the extra ex-pense incurred by cutting and laying the laying the same late in the fall after the ground had frozen, was a damage to the association of more than a $1000. The pittle. claimed that the 12 ft, pipe was accepted by the dells, without any agreement to pay such damages as the defts, claimed upon the trial. The jury found specially and found that the pipe at 49 cts. per foot came

Franklin Doolittle vs. F. A. Nash.-The plff, made a contract to construct and grade a certain portion of the West river railroad in Vernon in the fall of 1870, and this contract was made with Mr. Nash, who employed Mr. Doolittle to do the work. Afterwards in November of the same year an injunction was issued by the Court of Chancery and served upon the railroad aforesaid, which prevented Mr. Doolittle from performing his contract and stopped all work upon the road. It appeared in evidence that Col. Waite, President of said railroad, had paid the plff. for what work he had done each month as estimated by an engineer, less 15 per cent. After the work was interrupted by the injuncton the piff, called upon Col. Waite, and according to Col. Waite's testimony, settled all matters growing out of said contract and the lamages occasioned by the violation of the same, and a receipt was produced acknowledging the receipt of a certain sum of money in full of all demands and damages. This receipt covered everything, as the defis, claimed, except the cost of a shanty which had been constructed by the plff, to enable him to prosecute said work, one-half which Cot. Waite agreed to pay for, provided it was sold for all it would fairly bring. The piff, claimed that he never signed a receipt for all damages, but that the words "and all damages" were added after he signed it. The plff, claimed about $1200 damages. Verdict for piff, $48,80. Coun-sel for piff., Davenport & Eddy; for deft., J. M. Tyler and K. Haskins. State vs George Kennedy .- This was an indictment charging the respondent with having ravished one Mrs. Mabel Gilbert of Whitingham in July last. From the evidence it appeared that Mrs. Gilbert was 70 years of age. The defendant denied that be committed the outrage charged against him. Verdict, guilty. O. E. Butterfield counsel for State, Carpenter & M. Davidson

State vs. Jam ca Boyce,-This was an indictment against Boyce for an assault upon Hannibal Hadley with a dangerous weap-on and with an intent to rob. It appeared in evidence that the respondent came to Brattleboro in June last. The respondent testified that he slept in the barn of Mr. Hadley situated upon High street in Brattleboro for three nights, and that he had looked for some employment, but without success. The testimony in behalf of the State showed that Mr. Hadley, while feeding his swine about 8 o'clock in the moraing on the 11th of June last, was assaulted by the respondent and struck a severe blow upon the back of his head and neck, which partially stunned him. An alarm was at once given and the respondent was captured near Asylum street. The deft, was identified as the person who made the assault upon Mr. Hadley. The blow was given with part of a pitchfork handle which the respondent had prepared when occupying the barn as aforesaid. The respondent did not deny the assault, but said he had no intention to rob Mr. Hadiey, and that he struck the blow in order that he might get out of the barn without being seen, and laimed that he was on his way out of the barn when he heard Mr. Hadley coming, and thinking that trouble would arise if it was ascertained that be had been sleeping in the barn be struck the blow and fied. Verdiet, guilty. On trial at time of going to press, State vs. John E. Daniels.

To day our paper is worth 85 cents im gold. With additional issues it might easily sink in a year to 78 cents. The man, therefore, who loaned money to-day at 7 per cent, would in a year have nothing for the use of his money. Men will not lend such terms. Capital will not come, and hardly remain, where it is exposed to such dangers. We ask all candid men who are inclined to think that "a little more money" might "give us a start," to examine this statement of the past working of inflation and contraction and their present possibilities. If we are not greatly mistaken, they will be convinced that the promisesof the inflationists can never be carried out.

An Important Fact The voluntary testimony of thousands established beyond all doubt a fact of vital importance to the sick and debilitated, viz., that Hostelter's Stomach Bitters says absolute specific for remittent and intermittent is an absolute specific for remittent and intermittent fewer, dyspepsia, constipation, billiousness, mental slepression, skeplessness, chronic diarrhoss, and all slessness of the stomach, liver, and howels. The unmedicated stimulants usually prescribed in these cases only aggravate the symptoms, instead of researching them. The litters, on the contrary, ast as a corrective and invigorant, without producing the surpleasant and dangerous consequences of the old school practice. The action is mild and soothing to the irritated stomach and bowels, promoting digestion and preventing flattience, amuses, breakedne, and inhealthal trrogularities. A wineglassful beforemens greatly assist digestion. The convalessmit may use them with great benefit, as a means of restoring strength and cheerfulness.

Dear Phanix :- The peaceful old town of Hanover is once more alive with young nen, most of whom are seeking an education, and a few, who are apparently after anything but that. The winter term of Dartmouth college opened September 2d, with more students than ever before. It is an interesting sight to see four hundred young men in the chapel every morning. and remember that they come from every part of our own country, and even from ther countries. The freshman class has out eighty members in the scademic and wenty-five in the scientific department. Peclinps no class of persons are more teacious of old customs and precedents than ollege boys, but it is noticeable that the melent barbarism of "hazing" is almost extinct in this place. The faculty have ut-terly discountenanced it for several years, and in return for a favor the seulors have used their influence this year, so that the sophomores have been quite mild to the new comers. It is true the freshmen found their seats varnished the second morning of the term, but the remarks of President smith were not complimentary, to say the east, to the perpetrator of the joke.

The faculty, as a whole, are noble, refined nen, carneatly devoted to their work, and the president, especially, is much admired by the boys, who always give him a warm elcome as he comes into the chapel, if he has been absent. The senior class has undertaken to provide a course of six lectures this fall, the first of which was ably delivered. Sept. 24th, by J. T. Field, LL. D., of Roston, upon "Thomas DeQuiney." The annual college regatta comes off Oct. Hith, and hence physical development is a abject of interest to many. Beside the asual bost race of the classes, prizes are offered for a tub race, running, jumping, walking, and wheelbarrow races, etc. The question whether these things are a benefit is one that will probably never be settled to the satisfection of every one, but the boys know what they think about it.
